

Strikes And Violence Continue Against Red Rule In East Germany

By TOM REEDY

BERLIN (AP)—East Germany's desperate ruling Communists admitted today that strikes and violence still continue against their Kremlin-puppet regime and charged "foreign planes" have parachuted saboteurs into the Russian zone to keep the flames of rebellion burning.

A statement by the Socialist Unity (Communist) party's Central Committee said a "great number" of the parachutists had been captured, but admitted that in the sixth day of martial law carried on by Russian troops and armor, "quiet is not yet entirely secured."

Rebuff To Communism

As reports flew that the Russians were about to throw out the satellite East German government of Prime Minister Otto Grotewohl the party declaration attested to the still-continuing strikes with frantic appeals to the 18 million captive East Germans to go back to work.

Throwing off restraint, the statement made clear the magnitude of the workers' rebellion—the most gigantic rebuff from a captive civilian population in the history of Moscow-directed communism.

The "enemy," the Communists said, incited "millions" of East Germans to take to the streets in wild disorder and "threatened the security and lives of workers of the East German Democratic Republic."

The Fascist agents also planned to incite farmers to destroy their crops, the party said.

Blame On Allies

The Reds said the parachutists—agents of "American warmakers and their West German tools"—landed in Saxony and Thuringia after the revolt broke out last Wednesday. The Western Allies already have denied in the strongest terms that they had anything to do with the rebellion.

The Communists said some Western "agents" equipped with earphones and radio sets had been captured on the superhighway, the Autobahn, between Berlin and Leipzig. The statement, however, did not elaborate the number, nationality or fate of those assertedly captured.

The party promised something like a general amnesty to all strikers who would return to work. It ordered officials to differentiate between "honorable workers" and "Western agents who balked them into this grave error." But it also grimly warned "tens of thousands" of party men that they should have broken the strike and thus had become suspect of playing more than passive roles.

Big Plants Burned

The shaky regime continued to spread thick its promises to the workers—lower prices, less work, better living standards, fewer re-

Syngman Rhee Tosses Matches In Powder Keg

By DON WHITEHEAD
(For JAMES MARLOW)

WASHINGTON (AP)—Tough and willful old Syngman Rhee has been striking matches and tossing them around in the world's powder keg—Korea.

Defiantly, he has slapped his friends because they are willing to stop the fighting and then seek unification of Korea through negotiations with the Reds, rather than at the point of a bayonet.

The major Allied powers want to set at a conference table and decide the future of this little country so torn and ravaged by war—perhaps later to reach an agreement on all Asia. And Rhee is struggling against them with an all-or-nothing defiance that some regard as fanaticism.

Strong-Willed Man

You may damn this old man for his unyielding opposition to compromise with the Communists at a time when peace in Asia seems at stake. But for any understanding of what is happening, you must understand Rhee.

He is a strong-willed man as he has demonstrated—strong-willed perhaps to the point of recklessness. A united, independent Korea is a dream for which he has fought many, many years. And obviously in his thinking he is seeing this dream slip from his grasp.

When Rhee was a youth, Korea had a king. Even at 19, Rhee was active in politics. He became a force in an organization which was urging Democratic reforms under the monarchy and elimination of Japanese influence in the government.

Always Comes Back

He was jailed, tortured and hounded, but Rhee had a stubborn streak that would not bend. Then in 1910 the Japanese deposed Korea's king and seized his country. They forced Rhee into exile and he went to Hawaii. But he helped encourage an underground resistance in Korea.

Delegates met secretly in Seoul to elect Rhee head of a provisional government. But the Japanese learned about it, broke up the meeting and punished the ring-leaders.

In 1920, Rhee was in Shanghai helping to organize and direct guerrilla activity against the Japanese. Later he lived in Washington, always pleading the cause of an independent Korea.

After World War II, Rhee returned to a divided country to become president of the Republic of Korea. His desire for unity of his country was so fierce that American authorities feared he might use a South Korean army to attack North Korea.

Gen. Clark Hopeful On Korea Armistice

HEADS TRUCE UNIT — Maj. Gen. Blackshear M. Byran has been nominated by Gen. Mark W. Clark to be the senior member of the UN Military Armistice Committee when it is organized. At present he is commander of the U. S. XVI Corps in Japan.

Truce Can Be Signed Without South Korea OK

SEOUL (AP)—Gen. Mark Clark, U. N. commander, conferred today with President Syngman Rhee, then announced he can sign an armistice without South Korean approval, but he said doing so would "depend on instructions from my government."

"I am authorized at the present time to sign the armistice which has been drawn up," he told newsmen after what was apparently a showdown meeting with the rebellious Rhee.

Still Up To Reds

"I am not trying to be overly optimistic. There are many problems. I feel somewhat more encouraged; more hopeful," he added.

Clark said he could not reveal why he was encouraged.

What effect the talk might have on an armistice was not apparent.

Although Clark indicated the truce document was virtually complete, he said there still are problems and added, "The truce timetable is more or less up to the Communists." He said a truce could be completed promptly "if the Reds desire it."

Clark said he doubted if there would have been a truce by now even if South Korea hadn't opposed it.

He would not say whether he thought an armistice could be reached without return of the freed prisoners and said he did not tell Rhee how the U. S. intends to deal with the situation.

Clark's comments indicated the free-swinging South Korean government would check with the U. N. Command before taking any more such lone actions as its single-handed release of 27,000 anti-Red Korean prisoners since Wednesday night.

Boss of ROK Forces

Rhee's action froze the armistice talks on the edge of signing and left the UNC a plump target for the Reds, who demanded recapture of the prisoners and U. N. control of South Korea if the Allies wanted an armistice.

South Korea showed no remorse or inclination to change its stand against any truce which would leave Korea divided despite a burning Allied anger. Its Prime Minister insisted just before the Clark-Rhee meeting that South Korea gave the Allies command of its troops and could just as easily take them off the battlefield.

However, Clark made it clear that he feels he is boss of all U. N. forces—including the 16 ROK divisions. He said there is no question that the ROK Army is "under my command."

Asked if he thinks the ROK troops loyal, Clark replied with an emphatic "Yes."

Depends On Cooperation

He was asked if he would sign an armistice without advance approval by Rhee. He told newsmen the armistice is between the U. N. commander and the Red Chinese-North Korean command, and said: "I am authorized at the present time to sign the armistice which has been drawn up."

Financial Pressure May Be Needed To Speed Europe Army

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower probably will have to decide this week whether he wants to put heavy financial pressure on America's allies to speed agreement on a West European army.

The House last week voted to withhold by law about a billion dollars in foreign aid funds until European Defense Community treaties are ratified. Sunday, Sen. Taft (R-Ohio) suggested a compromise which would give the President discretionary authority to do the same thing.

Six Nations Included

Legislative leaders may find out at a White House conference Wednesday whether the President believes such a financial threat to West European nations would be wise.

The EDC treaties, ratified so far only by Western Germany, would call up 500,000 men from six nations for service in a unified army.

Livingston T. Merchant, assistant secretary of state, told the Senate Foreign Relations Committee in testimony on the foreign aid bill he believes "the logic of events" will bring ratification of the EDC treaties also by France, Italy, Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg.

The testimony of Merchant and other officials, taken behind closed doors by the committee, was made public over the week end.

Russia Backing Down?

In it Gen. Omar N. Bradley, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, was disclosed to have told senators he believes Russia is "pulling back" in the cold war. Bradley said the Soviets fear increased U. S. military strength and need time to consolidate their position at home.

The hearing transcript included Taft's statement that it is "ridiculous" to claim the U. S. is saving money by financing the manufacture of fighter planes in Britain and France.

The Senate Republican leader said funds those countries receive under the offshore-purchase program represent an economic aid which he asserted will be used "for socialistic purposes in England and for something else in France."

In the fiscal year ending June 30, such contracts reported let total 272 million dollars worth of equipment in Britain, and 263 million in France.

Chicago L Crash Leaves 32 Hurt

CHICAGO (AP)—At least 26 persons were injured today in a collision of two elevated railway trains carrying workers downtown in the morning rush hour.

A four-coach Evanston train rammed into a standing eight-coach Englewood train at the Sheridan Road station, Sheridan Road and Irving Park Boulevard, on the North Side.

The two trains were southbound. Twenty-six persons were taken to the American Hospital. Three were hurt seriously enough to be kept there. Two were treated for minor cuts and discharged and 21 others were not believed badly hurt but were given x-rays.

Six of the injured persons were taken to the Illinois Masonic Hospital. Three remained for further treatment. The motorman of the Evanston train, Henry Uhl, was released after stitches were taken in his scalp.

Morris Klimboff, riding in the second car of the Evanston train, said he saw the standing Englewood train and, "We were going about 30 miles an hour when the crash came. Lots of people were standing and everybody was thrown down. There was screaming and yelling and broken glass all around."

Heat Wave Brings Death Toll Of 125

By The Associated Press

A heat wave, running into its fourth day today with a death toll of at least 125, ushered in the official summer season over the week end.

It was attended by sudden, violent and drenching storms, water shortages and threat of drought. Scarcely any section failed to feel the blows, one way or another.

It began Friday when spreading heat ran temperatures up to Ft. Smith, Ark. of June record of 105, Laredo, Tex.'s 107 and Ashland, Neb.'s 108 peak. Storms generated by the day's stifling heat and humidity wrecked minor tornado damage in Nebraska and wind damage in Iowa.

Saturday was worse. Chicago had its hottest June day on record -104.2. A 60-year record was set at Albany, N. Y., and Louisville, Ky. There was a 107-degree temperature in Arkansas, 105 at Oklahoma City, 103 at St. Louis, 101 at Terre Haute, Ind.

HONG KONG (AP)—The British freighter Wing Sang docked here today after outrunning a pirate junk that attacked it Sunday with gunfire between Formosa and Hong Kong.

The Wing Sang suffered no casualties in the attack but six arm-piercing bullets struck the superstructure.

The freighter's captain, Harold C. Goddard, said the attacking junk, carried an indistinguishable flag.

Tearful Burial Rites Are Held For Rosenbergs

NEW YORK (AP)—Funeral services for Julius and Ethel Rosenberg erupted Sunday into tearful praise of the electrocuted atom spies and angry attacks on U. S. government officials.

Defense Atty. Emanuel Bloch declared in a funeral oration that the executions were "an act of cold, deliberate murder."

He said he placed "the murder of the Rosenbergs at the door of President Eisenhower, Atty. Gen. Brownell and J. Edgar Hoover." Bloch praised the New York City couple—who died Friday night in the electric chair at Sing Sing Prison—for what he called their "courage and heroism."

Hisses Hard

Semi-orthodox Jewish services were held for the Rosenbergs at a Brooklyn funeral home chapel, largest in the Brooklyn-Manhattan area. About 500 mourners jammed the chapel, and a crowd estimated by police at 10,000 milled around outside in 93-degree heat.

The chapel filled with hisses and murmurs of "No" when Rabbi Abraham Cronbach said, "Let us give them (the prosecutors) credit for this: that they did what they thought was right."

The rabbi told his protesting audience not to be vindictive, even though the executions "broke our hearts."

In his attack on government leaders, Bloch declared: "The people should know that America is living under the heel of a military dictator garbed in civilian attire. These people . . . have the souls of murderers."

Eulogy At Graveside

Bloch was attorney for the Rosenbergs at the trial in which they were convicted of conspiring to pass U. S. atomic secrets to Soviet Russia. For more than two years he led the court fight to have their death sentence set aside.

A procession of more than 300 automobiles followed the hearse to Woodlawn Cemetery on Long Island 35 miles from New York. At the graveside the Rev. Glendon Partidge, a Presbyterian minister from Montreal, Canada, delivered the final eulogy.

He praised the "true strength of these people who would not put anything—even life itself—above the best they believed in."

"They died in the name of humanity, truth and justice," he said.

Lament In Yiddish

Mrs. Sophie Rosenberg, 71-year-old mother of Julius, a black shawl tied around her head and under her chin, wailed in Yiddish:

"God help me. To lose two children—to take a mother and father away from two children. Look at those two boxes holding my children."

At times the line of those waiting to get into the chapel stretched four and five abreast for four blocks. The funeral committee estimated 10,000 trooped past the bodies before the funeral.

Nearly 200 policemen were on duty to keep order and prevent disturbances.

Occasionally spectators heckled those in line.

Marquette Prison Escapers Caught By State Police

IRON MOUNTAIN (AP)—Three trustees escaped from a Marquette prison honor farm early today, but were recaptured within three hours by alert state troopers.

The convicts were identified as Lorenzo Bullock, of Ypsilanti, Jerome Fethke and Henry Schultz.

They were recaptured in a chase near Merriman, 5 miles north of Iron Mountain and about 75 miles south of the prison, after they ditched a stolen prison car.

Troopers Francis Treado and John Lyne of Iron Mountain, on their way to set up a road block on M-95, spotted the convicts in the stolen vehicle.

The convicts jumped from their moving car as it struck a ditch and fled into roadside brush.

Truman Avoids Capital Politics

WASHINGTON (AP)—Harry S. Truman is back in Washington for a week of seeing old friends and "keeping away from politics."

The former President had little else to say when he checked in Sunday night at the Mayflower Hotel on his first visit since leaving the White House Jan. 20.

He and Mrs. Truman had motored from Wheeling, W. Va., Truman plans to leave Friday for speaking engagements in Philadelphia and New York before going back home to Independence, Mo.

Daughter Margaret, who now lives in New York City, joined her parents at the hotel.

Truman's Washington schedule calls for private meetings with men who served in his Cabinet, a luncheon with old Senate friends and later with fund-raisers for his projected library, and a dinner honoring Chief Justice and Mrs. Vinson.

July 8 Tentatively Picked For Big 3 Meeting In Bermuda

WASHINGTON (AP)—A date—July 8—has been picked for the start of Big Three talks in Bermuda, but some mild confusion remained today over how firm it is.

A White House statement Sunday spoke of July 8 as "the present target date" for opening the conference, but added that "this plan naturally is dependent upon its acceptability to the French government."

Information Fund Needs 123 Million, Director Declares

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Dr. Robert L. Johnson says he will tell Congress a proposed 112½ million dollar budget for the International Information Administration is not enough for the organization he heads.

Johnson said Sunday he will ask Congress to approve that amount but declared, "We need a minimum of 123 million dollars or even more." The 112½ million dollar limit was set by the Budget Bureau.

In a television interview, Johnson said he thought it was a coincidence that President Eisenhower's recent "book burning" statement came at a time when there was some contention over the removal of some books from our overseas libraries.

There is no list of books not allowed in our libraries overseas, he said, only a directive—and "our librarians are given a great deal of freedom in interpreting that directive."

Johnson said a four or five-man bipartisan group will review the books and any found unfit will be placed in a warehouse.

don residence of Prime Minister Churchill said the start of the talks "has been fixed for July 8." An informed British source said the date was fixed "with the confident assumption that there will be a French government by that time."

On the day the plan for a Big Three session was announced last month, the French government of Premier Rene Mayer fell, and four efforts to form a new one have failed since then. President Vincent Auriol Sunday asked former Premier Antoine Pinay to try.

Originally, it was hoped that the talks—which Churchill has been plugging as a possible preliminary to Big Four sessions with Premier Malenkov of Russia—would get under way late this month. But the absence of a government in Paris threw a wrench into those plans.

Eisenhower will fly to Bermuda in his plane the Columbine, leaving here July 7.

Churchill will travel on the 42,500-ton battleship Vanguard, probably sailing June 30.

"They're just my foster children, really," said Dr. Ross as he looked over the crowd that ranged from a small baby to middle-aged adults. "I was merely the doctor who delivered them, but I like to think of them as my own."

Problems Of Alcoholics Described By Physician

A feeling of remorse in an alcoholic — his sense of guilt because he has let himself down — is the key to his possible recovery, Dr. C. P. Mehas of Pontiac told Upper Michigan and Northern Wisconsin doctors at a medical session here Saturday.

Doctor Mehas, director of the Bloomfield Hills Sanatorium in Pontiac, Mich., was one of 11 medical speakers for the two-day anniversary meeting of the U. P. Medical Society at the House of Ludington last weekend. About 75 doctors were here for the meetings.

"We don't know what causes alcoholism, but the alcoholic is different than the drunkard," Doctor Mehas explained. Whereas the drunkard usually has a low intelligence quotient, a poor work record, a job requiring little experience, and is incapable of a feeling of guilt about drinking — the alcoholic usually has a better than average IQ, a job that takes more experience, a good work record, and a sense of guilt about his drinking when he is sober, the Lower Michigan doctor stated.

Emotional Problem

Our methods have failed completely with the drunkard, Dr. Mehas stated, but the alcoholic's desire to be helped and his sense of remorse makes it possible for him to respond to treatment.

In discussing the problem of the alcoholic for U. P. physicians, Dr. Mehas differentiated between the drunkard and the "psychopath," who becomes or acts like a drunkard to "get another chance." Criminals are usually of this "psychopath" type, Dr. Mehas said.

"Too often we have looked into the minds of the alcoholic. There are mental aspects of alcoholism, but we believe these are secondary to the emotional problem," the clinician pointed out. The alcoholic drinks for the effect — to feel good — rather than for a reason. "We call the alcoholic emotionally immature," Dr. Mehas observed.

Measuring Emotional Maturity

The true alcoholic is sad and knows little of happiness, the Pontiac doctor emphasized. He is emotionally stunted or blocked, and emotionally is 5 to 17 years old, Doctor Mehas stated.

Noting that emotional growth in humans occurs in five stages — the sexual, narcissistic, homosexual, heterosexual, and hero or saint — the Pontiac physician asserted that the alcoholic is "stunted" in the courtship phase of the heterosexual stage.

Emotional maturity is measured by the love objects of the individual, Dr. Mehas explained. In the asexual stage of the infant, the love object is the self, and the instincts of food and self preservation are dominant. The self is the object of love in the narcissistic stage too, (when the child becomes aware of his extremities as well as his stomach) and also in the homosexual stage of children. In this latter stage love of self is reflected in persons of the same sex with similar interests, Dr. Mehas said.

Comes From Home

Divorce from self as the love object occurs in the heterosexual stage and the instinct of self preservation then becomes strong, the Pontiac physician stated. In later years, the individual arrives at the emotional "hero or saint" stage, sacrificing his sex and self-preservation instincts, just as the person does who dies for his country, Dr. Mehas noted.

The individual can grow along these emotional stages or be blocked, the physician asserted. Just as individuals can be brought from the narcissistic stage to the homosexual by going to school, so the alcoholic can be brought farther along the emotional scale of maturity by a long term program of treatment which includes dedication and service to others.

"We feel the problem comes from the alcoholic's home," Dr. Mehas stated. The mother should provide feelings of security and the father inspiration, but 18th century male psychology, which held that loving children was "woman's work," has produced a situation in the 20th century where "papa has been kicked out." This is "woman's century," the physician said, noting that many children miss the inspirational quality a father should give.

Nutrition And Honesty

In the 18th century children feared and respected their fathers but did not love them — today they love them but do not respect them," Dr. Mehas said. Balance is needed between these two, the physician noted.

"The alcoholic is in rebellion against his father or authority, and needs to be helped to advance in emotional maturity, through service which will lead him away from love of self, not to the hero or saint stage, but to the point where he or she is a good husband or wife," Dr. Mehas explained. Alcoholism often drives the individual back along the emotional pattern of development to the point where the "true" alcoholic becomes a sexual, he noted. A three-point program of treatment was recommended by the Pontiac physician. Barbiturates should be avoided in giving seda-tion to the alcoholic, nutrition should be given uppermost consideration, and the alcoholic must be made to be honest with himself.

Elect Dr. Lieberthal

Group therapy, like that given by Alcoholic Anonymous, helps alcoholics "tear down each other's rationalizations," and also establishes them on a program of service leading to emotional maturity, Dr. Mehas pointed out.

"The alcoholic would like to be a drunkard or psychopath but has failed. He can't be either," Dr. Mehas stated.

Following Dr. Mehas' talk the U. P. Medical Society elected Dr. Paul Lieberthal of Ironwood president-elect for 1954. Dr. John Kaye of Menominee was installed as president, succeeding Dr. Louis Groos of Escanaba, at a banquet Saturday evening. The 1954 meeting will be held in Menominee, with Dr. William Jones Jr., of Menominee as secretary-treasurer.

The closing sessions Saturday, at which Dr. John J. Walsh of Escanaba presided, included talks by Dr. John Emmett of Rochester, Minn., Dr. Bruce Fralick of Ann Arbor, Dr. Mehas and Dr. Francis E. Senear of Chicago. The latter, who spoke on occupational skin conditions, was a classmate of Dr. Walsh of Escanaba at the University of Michigan.

Municipal League To Publish Talk By City Assessor

The Michigan Municipal League will publish a paper, "Pros and Cons of County-Wide Assessor," written by Escanaba City Assessor Charles Schmidt and presented at the recent 15th Upper Peninsula meeting of the League at Houghton.

Charles Folio, Escanaba, U. P. supervisor of extension for the University of Michigan, presided at the opening session and talked in connection with the improvement of county government, the section in which Assessor Schmidt's paper was presented.

A. V. Aronson, Escanaba city manager, presided at the Friday general session.

The 1954 Upper Peninsula meeting of the Michigan Municipal League will be held in June at Sault Ste. Marie.

Board Approves Appeal Of Tax Distribution

The Delta County Board of Supervisors this morning approved the action of its finance committee in appealing to the State Tax Commission the millage allocation made by the Delta County Tax Allocation Board May 12.

The Allocation Board's May 12 action gave 7.5 mills to the county and 7.5 mills to the schools of the 15 mills state law allows the county to tax its property owners.

The county has insisted that with such an allocation it would reach the end of fiscal 1954 more than $25,000 in the red. Schools throughout the county have maintained they cannot give children a proper education with any less money than 7.5 mills would provide.

Other happenings at the County Board meeting this morning:

A letter from the auditor-general of Michigan said that the State Tax Commission has recommended that equalized valuation in the county be set at $38,100,000. Equalized valuation is now $31,967,467 in Delta County. The Board accepted the letter and placed it on record.

A letter from Tony Revord Post 244 of Powers, American Legion, asked a contribution for a Fourth of July fireworks display which the Legion post and the Powers Lions Club jointly sponsor each year for patients at Pinecrest Sanitarium. The letter was referred to the finance committee for study and report.

D. Hale Brake, state treasurer, wrote the County Board that Delta County is eligible to have a member on the board of the Michigan Institute of Local Government. Brake's letter was referred to the finance committee for study and report.

State Senator William A. Ellsworth and State Representative Einar Erlandsen each sent the Board letters in response to telegrams from the Board urging support of the Straits bridge proposal. The two legislators said they are lending all possible support to the bridge project.

The Board referred to the building and grounds committee a proposal to clean up and paint a corner of the Webster Annex basement where food is prepared.

A letter from Harlan Yelland, Escanaba attorney, urged that county offices be closed on Saturday during the hot months as do many business establishments. The Board referred Yelland's letter to the finance committee for study and report.

The problem of an expected deficit in 1953 Circuit Court jury funds, together with the problem of justice court jury funds which are already exhausted for the year, was referred to the finance committee.

The Board adopted a motion urging as many of its members to attend a Health Department Open House June 25.

Ore Shipments Pass Two Million Tons

Shipments from the Escanaba ore docks soared way over the two million ton mark last week, reaching 2,231,888 tons by 7 o'clock this morning.

Dock workers loaded a mammoth 235,771 tons onto ore boats during the past week. Dock shipments are now 613,368 tons ahead of shipments by the same date last year, when total ore shipments had reached 1,618,520.

Vagueness In Beliefs Cited As U.S. Weakness

The greatest single source of weakness in the United States is "our being so vague about what we believe in," Dr. Clark Kuebler, president of Ripon College, Ripon, Wis., declared here Saturday.

Dr. Kuebler, who recently returned from a trip to the Orient and who has been in Europe 15 times since World War I, was the principal speaker at the U. P. Medical Society banquet in the House of Ludington Saturday evening. He spoke to about 75 Upper Michigan and Northern Wisconsin doctors and their guests.

The college president, in assessing how well-equipped the United States is for the ideological battle against communism and totalitarianism, said "everything decent" comes from three inheritances.

"They are the Greek tradition of rational thought and the belief that any individual can think his way to the truth, the tradition of law and government from Rome, and the ethics and religion which came from Palestine."

"To win a war with Russia is not the same as defeating communism, for you can't kill ideas with bombs," Dr. Kuebler pointed out. "You can kill ideas only with ideas that are better," he declared.

"We have to be citizens of the world and human beings, and that's not an easy task," he stated. The Ripon college president asserted that many educated people are not taking their responsibilities for good citizenship and are leaving it to "another group."

Noting that despite all the peace talk there is a possibility of war with Russia, the speaker declared he was sure the U. S. could win the war, but he was not so sure we could win the peace. We are so smug and complacent," he said, observing that recently at Fort Benning, Ga., it was proved to him that Wisconsin and Michigan would be in the path of planes if war with Russia occurred.

Need Moral Courage

The Ripon president, who declared that "we are so sophisticated in some ways and yet so naive," criticized Americans for adhering to cults of mediocrity and pseudo-liberalism. It is "exceedingly dangerous" to be satisfied with nothing less than the best and to apologize for excellence, the speaker declared. He also challenged the pseudo-liberal philosophy which holds that everything is opinion in the last analysis.

and that it doesn't matter what we believe in.

"We are what we believe," he asserted, Doctor Kuebler, who received a standing ovation at the conclusion of his speech, said "You and I and people in the professions are so pathetically vague about what we believe in, that its like having a 'charlie horse' between the ears."

The speaker, who pleaded for conviction and moral courage to stand for the great traditions, asserted that people to whom others look for leadership, and who have the privilege of added insights, must provide intellectual leadership which speaks in certain terms. "Otherwise we will lose," he declared.

Church and Temple

Dr. Kuebler who studied at Northwestern University, the University of Munich in Germany and the University of Chicago, where he received his doctorate, recalled the "silliness" of post-World War I thinking, in which it was held that war was outmoded, that the rest of the world was impatient to imitate the United States and that any member of a graduating class could become a millionaire if he wanted to. He also stated that 5 or 10 years ago, he would not have spoken as he did on religion, yet "truth is truth." "You can dismiss it if you want to, but you'd better be sure you know what you're doing," he declared.

"We need examples of excellence in our general corporate life," Doctor Kuebler told the medical men, and we need to train young people to be capable of more than just holding a job. "Sometimes we get so practical, we are impractical," he noted.

Need Conviction

The speaker pointed out that the totalitarian knows that Judaism and Christianity are the greatest foe, and that in Europe the greatest opposition to totalitarians came from the "temple and church." "The intellectuals fell flat on their faces," Dr. Kuebler observed.

Recalling a Franciscan priest's warning in Nazi Germany that "Any government which attempts to set itself up over religion ends in ashes," Dr. Kuebler told of experiences in Germany while he studied in Munich, at the same time Hitler rose to power. The Germans were willing to surrender their critical faculty to totalitarians who believed that the rational faculty is confined to a few or one person, he said.

Dr. Kuebler assailed the atticape neuroses," he said.

The speaker told his audience that men leaving college for service in Korea are asking for courses in ethics and religion "to be sure the sacrifices can be justified."

"The more sophisticated we are, the more confused we are," he noted.

Following Doctor Kuebler's talk, the medical men installed Dr. John Kaye of Menominee as president for 1953.

tude that it is unintellectual to be certain about anything, and said that the Bible required that "we make up our minds." "If Christ was vague, why was he crucified?" the speaker challenged his audience. He also recounted the parable of the three churches which chose the good, the three which chose the bad and the one which didn't choose. It was the one which didn't choose of which the Lord said "I will spew thee out of my mouth," the college president said.

Sophisticated Or Confused

"In this country we believe the function of government is to serve man, individually and collectively. In totalitarian countries the individual exists only to serve the state," Dr. Kuebler reminded his audience.

He noted that young people today were confused. They can't help being confused, however, the speaker said, because wars have interfered with their careers and their marriages. "Only cows es-

Garden

No-Hitter

GARDEN—The Garden youth team defeated a Manistique team on the Garden Field Friday afternoon by a 10 to 2 score. The game was marked by the no-hit pitching of Garden's Dave Pelletier and a fast triple play pulled off by the Manistique boys in the fifth inning. Pelletier walked three batters in gaining the victory while Garden batters received the same number of passes from two Manistique pitchers. Guertin and Pelletier led the Garden hitting with two blows apiece. Garden touched the Manistique pitching for 12 hits.

The triple play came in the fifth inning with Garden runners on first and second. Pelletier lined what appeared to be a single to the right of second base, but Paradise, playing second, reached low to his right and snagged the ball. His momentum carried him one step to second base where he doubled one runner and threw quickly to first to complete the play.

"Just bought my 4th Kaiser"

"My fourth Kaiser is the best yet," says E. U. Sherman, Kansas City. "I bought my first Kaiser in 1947, liked it so well I've bought three more. I find the Kaiser best suited to me."

With 730,000 cars on the road, Kaiser's repeat ownership tops all previous records—and Kaiser's new $62 million expansion program assures these owners of a great future!

Kaiser has an outstanding record of repeat owners. Here's why:

Styling—The Kaiser has won more international beauty awards than any other American automobile. Trim and low with unlimited visibility through the greatest glass area of any standard sedan.

Performance—With no unnecessary dead weight to pull, every ounce of power goes into efficient performance. Lowest center of gravity of any standard American sedan, plus Kaiser's suspension, lets you take curves faster and stay snug to the road.

Safety—When you drive a Kaiser with its safety-padded instrument panel, "push-out" windshield and narrow corner posts... you'll never feel as secure in any other car!

See Your Dealer—Now you can get a better car at a better price—and the Kaiser-Frazer dealer's king-sized allowance on your present car will prove it to you!

"On the road all the time"—now in my third Kaiser," writes J. J. Long, Long Island salesman. "Traveled 140,000 miles without expensive repairs; 26 miles on a gallon, too."

"Four Kaisers in our family," says E. S. Cleveland, California garage owner. "For economy of operation and performance they can't be matched. No question about it, the best engineered car."

"Saved my life," says Donald E. Holmes, Coldwater, Michigan. He walked away from a crash, thanks to Kaiser's safety-padded instrument panel and "push-out" windshield.

While Rest Of Nation Swelters, Who Says We Are Not Fortunate?

WITH most of the nation sweltering in temperatures past 100 degrees, the Upper Peninsula of Michigan enjoys its usual delightful summer weather. Cooled from the south by the gentle breezes of Lake Michigan and from the north by Lake Superior, the Upper Peninsula is truly a summer paradise.

Here in Escanaba Saturday, for instance, while 100 plus temperatures were reported from cities all over the nation, we fortunate people basked in 75 degree sunshine. Who says we aren't lucky?

When the rest of the world reports tornadoes ripping through homes at tremendous speed, spreading death and desolation, or floods, or earthquakes, or dust storms, we lucky folks of the Upper Peninsula can count our blessings. These tragedies of nature are not visited upon us.

Power With Words

By Dr. C. E. Funk

rule of the road—"In England and Ireland one keeps to the left, as stated in the following lines I learned as a boy:

"The rule of the road is a paradox quite. In riding or driving along, If you go to the left, you surely go right; If you go to the right, you go wrong."

But can you tell me if the same 'rule of the road' is observed in France, Belgium, and Germany?"—M. A. T., Reno, Nev.

Although this question is outside my province, it may be of general interest to know that the rule quoted applies only to the British Isles. In all other countries the custom is the same as that observed in America.

tao—Miss F. B., Jersey City, N. J.—The word you seek is tao, not kao. The word is pronounced TAH-o, and is a term used in the Philippine Islands for a peasant or man of the lower classes.

pronunciations—Mrs. B. Y. E., Waco, Texas—The surname of the actress, Lynn Fontanne, is pronounced fahn-TAN; that of the poet, Willa Cather, is KATH-ur, "th" as in "this," a rhyme with "rather."

girl friend—"It is proper to use girl-friend and boyfriend?"—Miss M. D. R., Buffalo, N. Y.

Either girl friend or boy friend may be used with entire propriety, but neither term is yet customarily written as a solid word. Either term may signify a youthful sweetheart, or merely a friend of the sex stated.

basically—"While copying a manuscript I ran across the word basically but do not find it in the dictionary. Is there such a word?"—Miss H. K. S., Chicago.

No such word has yet been recognized. Probably the author has basically in mind, but omitted two letters. It means essentially fundamentally.

The Doctor Says . . . Notion False That Removing Fallopian Tube Limits Sex

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D. — Written for NEA Service

There is nothing so surrounded by superstition and just plain notions as the question of what determines the sex of an infant.

Q—Is it true that if a woman has one Fallopian tube removed that all her children will be of one sex? Mrs. H.

A—This is not true.

Q—We have one son, 21 months old. Naturally he is pampered and spoiled. During the last five months he has had six or seven spells which have frightened us greatly. The child holds his breath, becomes rigid, his eyeballs roll around, and then he blanks out, the pink color drains from his face and his skin darkens. Can you enlighten us on this? Mrs. S. R.

A—This sort of thing is uncommon but not unknown. The cause should be traced, if possible, and this certainly sounds sufficiently serious to warrant immediate professional advice.

Q—Our doctor has told us that our child should have shots for protection from whooping cough and diphtheria. We are undecided about this, however, since we have heard that a high percentage of polio victims have had the shots, and some claim the shots pollute the blood and make them sicker and more susceptible to polio. What do you think? Mrs. E. M.

Sure, we may gripe a little when the winter drags on past February and when the spring season is delayed by a chilled wind but these are minor discomforts compared to what folks elsewhere must endure. We have the nicest summers and the most wonderful fall seasons anywhere on the globe. For that we can be most thankful.

We have scenic beauty in abundance, thousands of lakes and streams. And we have some of the best fishing and hunting in the country.

Who says we aren't lucky?

Rhee Must Bear Blame If War Is Prolonged

AMERICA and its UN allies in Korea apparently are paying the price of not having taken President Syngman Rhee seriously enough in his frequent public protests during the past two years over a "divided-Korea" truce.

The record indicates he made many statements indicating that any agreement would be unacceptable which left the nation cut in two and left North under control of Communist armies.

Not until the controversial prisoner-exchange issue was settled, however, did Rhee translate his objections into official protests to the United States government. Having got little satisfaction for that effort, he now has gone a long step farther and forced American and UN hands by releasing all anti-Red prisoners held in Allied stockades south of the 38th Parallel.

This is a bold effort to block a truce and compel UN forces to continue the war until it can be terminated on Rhee's terms—complete ouster of the Reds clear to the Yalu River border.

No one can gauge so soon what the final result will be of this disruptive move, but neither Washington nor Allied capitals abroad are optimistic over truce prospects. The release of the prisoners makes it impossible—unless all 25,000 should be recaptured—for the UN to deliver on the prisoner agreement it made with the Communists.

Those who see a distinction between Rhee's frequent public declarations against major truce terms and his long-delayed formal protest to official governments regard the aged Korean's behavior as a mystery.

It could be, however, that he imagined no truce ever would be concluded, and felt therefore that he could avoid a formal rift by not carrying his objections to the very last stage. If that were so, the real imminence of a truce would be sufficient to account for his last-minute official outburst.

Some observers feel, too, that he coldly planned from the start to use his objections—fortified by public demonstrations—to force the U. S. into a commitment to protect South Korea, before any truce was signed.

It was this part of his aim, Rhee misjudged the American realities. There is no intent in this country to give him a defense pact so speedily. Many men feel it should and will come only after long debate, including consultation with our Western allies.

Perhaps his realization of this drove Rhee to turn loose Red prisoners and thus jeopardize the truce. If he now succeeds in doing that, he must bear the principal blame for having prolonged a stalemate war that can only reach real decision by becoming far bloodier and costlier, and more dangerous for the whole free world.

It's a great life in this country of ours if the weather doesn't get you down—or even if it does.

There were only four autos in this country in 1896. Those were really the good old days for pedestrians.

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—Exactly four months ago I was in Berlin—that most strategic of all cities on the very edge of the iron curtain. It was snowing. Thousands of refugees trudged through the snow across that invisible but very real line dividing the slave world from the free world.

The United States at that time stood as the recognized leader of the free world. Though criticized, we were respected, on the whole loved. The pact we proposed for the defense of Europe, for the welding of rival French and German armies into one force, still had high hopes of success.

Russia, the force which daily drove hapless men and women across the iron curtain into free Germany, was more distrustful, more feared, more hated than ever.

One month passed. Stalin died—or was murdered.

Another month passed. Soviet policy began to change. The spasm of shooting down British and American planes over Germany stopped. Suddenly the Kremlin began to throw crumbs of peace to the world. They were crumbs, thrown as if to pigeons in a park, but to a peace-starved people, they seemed like an eight-course banquet.

U. S. LEADERSHIP LOST

Today, four months later, there has occurred one all-important change in Europe. Unrest behind the iron curtain has not changed. It has reached a seething, white heat. But the change is that the Kremlin has nullified our leadership. No longer can we call the tune in Western Europe. Europe calls the tune for us.

This change is due to two basic factors:

1. We have vacillated and hesitated.
2. The Soviet desperately needs an era of at least surface peace to put its own house in order.

The tragedy is that the ferment within the Soviet Union occurs when we have made ourselves largely powerless to take advantage of it. For eight years we have been telling ourselves: "The time will come when the satellite peoples will rise up and throw off the yoke of Communism."

Now that this moment seems approaching, we have largely lost the leadership of the world.

This may seem a pessimistic diagnosis. However, there is hardly one American diplomat, hardly one friendly foreign diplomat, hardly one exiled prime minister or foreign minister living on our shores who does not regretfully agree that this is true. The problem, therefore, is to win back our leadership. To that end, let's diagnose the mistakes we have made; consider also the new steps we can take to stage a comeback.

OUR MISTAKES

Basically, the reasons for lessening leadership are a series of astute, if insincere moves by the Kremlin, coupled with certain obtuse if not stupid moves by us.

On one side, Russia released William Oatis from jail, permitted Russian wives of Americans in Moscow to leave the country, is exchanging ambassadors with Yugoslavia and Greece, is easing harsh measures in East Germany, lifted the iron curtain a bit in Austria, is settling border problems with Turkey, pulled Chinese Communist troops out of Laos, probably inspired truce talks in Korea.

None of these has changed basic Soviet goals. The Soviet goal of world-wide Communism has not altered a bit. Even the truce in Korea, though devoutly to be wished, will leave Northeast Asia still in political ferment. In Germany, the Kremlin can still march in overnight. And France will be less defensible than ever.

But in a world starved for peace, in a world grasping for hope, these Soviet crumbs have been gobbled up greedily, while Western Europe stands literally with outstretched hands almost pleading for more.

"GO IT ALONE"

On the other side of the diplomatic score card, American leadership, at least in European eyes, has been torn with dissension. The statement by the No. 2 Republican of Washington that the United States must "go it alone" strengthened those European leaders who argue that Europe must "go it with Russia."

And when two young McCarthy investigators, just out of their teens, pranced through Europe leaving a trail of resentment behind, our prestige was not helped a bit. The "burning of the books," the purging and pounding of witnesses before congressional committees, the investigation of our schools and churches, has given the impression that we have become a Fascist state. And, as between a Fascist state in North America and a police state in Russia, West Europeans are wondering which is better.

While this is a false impression, nevertheless it remains a fact that these tactics have knocked the props out from under our best European friends and definitely strengthened the hands of our critics.

Enlisted Scientists Give U.S. Army Brainpower It Can't Buy

By DOUGLAS LARSEN

ARMY CHEMICAL CENTER, EDGEWOOD, Md.—(NEA)—The U. S. Army has at last found a way to put square pegs in square holes. Several thousand, anyway. And the results are turning out fine, although with a few disconcerting twists.

For instance the other day a frantic phone call from the Pentagon ordered the officer-in-charge of some super-secret laboratory project at Edgewood sent to Washington pronto to appear before a Senate committee.

The colonel at this end of the line stammered a little and finally had to admit to the Pentagon general that the man in charge of said program was a private first class—an "SPP."

The upshot was that a colonel appeared before the Senate committee, but with the private at his elbow to whisper the answers into his ear.

The SPPs are a group of very brainy young enlisted men known officially as Scientific and Professional Personnel.

As of now, to qualify for an SPP job, you've got to have a master's degree in some science or two years of job experience in a scientific field. When the program first got under way more than a year ago an ordinary degree was good enough. And with the present crop of double domes getting tighter they may drop the bar back down a degree.

Here's the way the program works:

A few weeks after basic training starts, draftees with real scientific savvy, are given the chance to ask for SPP duty. That means a shortened basic course and quick assignment to one of the Army's many research and development outfits.

It also means no chance to become an officer, a very difficult chance even to get an enlisted promotion, and no chance to win medals or overseas ribbons.

In exchange, however, the SPP gets to spend his period of service in his own field of scientific work and gets out of the Army with valuable experience under his belt. The Army may lose a good general duty officer and field leadership material, but it gets the use of a lot of scientific brainpower which it can't buy on the civilian market today.

There are close to 1000 of these master minds in the current Chemical Corps SPP program, the biggest one in the Army. They hold down key jobs in the labs and get all kinds of complicated, technical assignments.

One officer estimates that the SPPs do close to one-third of all of the scientific and technical work accomplished here. The work they do is so important the details of it are classified.

That doesn't keep Pvt. Paul O. Nielsen of Detroit from speaking out on what he thinks about the program, however.

"I must admit that I was skeptical about the idea at first," he says, "having heard so much about Army methods. But it has really amazed me how well the thing works. My job has been a constant challenge to me. I've learned more than I think I could have in private industry, in fact. And I think I've been able to make a real contribution to the project I'm on."

Nielsen, according to his commanding officer, is a brilliant chemical engineer. He was graduated from the University of Michigan last year and worked for an oil company while finishing his graduate studies before he was drafted.

The SPPs have their own club and they constitute most of the GI force on this large base. There's no guard house because there's no discipline problem.

Their club bridge team is rated the best in the East. They've set up a job-placement office, which is constantly hounded by personnel officials from the biggest corporations.

And they've started a scholarship fund to send the outstanding high school graduate of adjoining Harford County to college.

About one-third of the present SPP crop has indicated a desire to stay on here as civilian scientists after they get out of service. All of them have had several offers of good jobs in private industry when they get out.

Since the Army started the program more than a year ago, 11,000 SPPs have participated. "It would be hard to overestimate the tremendous contribution these men have made to our research and development program," says Lt. Col. Walter W. Kuehler, head of one of the labs.

The same sentiment is echoed by everyone who has had anything to do with the SPP program.

Good Evening . . .

By CLINI DUNATHAN

HIGHWAY SAFETY—This is the season for carefree summertime vacations—and death on Michigan highways.

Each year the death toll rises and each year reams of good advice are published in newspapers (most of it written by qualified traffic safety experts) on how to travel and still stay alive.

As a newspaperman I am becoming a little weary of the idea that good advice will help the situation. Certainly the admirably phrased warnings of the local, state and national highway safety people either fall on deaf ears or they are not eloquent enough to gain attention.

The time has come, in my opinion, when one of the E's in the Three E program should be emphasized—Enforcement. Education and Engineering appear to be unable to accomplish the job.

POINT OF EMPHASIS—I have only praise for the State Police, the City Police and the sheriff's officers in Michigan's 83 counties—but I wonder out loud if they are doing the best job in highway traffic law enforcement that they are capable of doing.

Quite frankly, I do not think they are; nor do I believe the people of Michigan are willing to dig deep enough in their pockets to finance a thorough-going job of traffic law enforcement.

Patrols on highways, where the motorists violate the laws and the accidents occur, are (in my opinion) being neglected for just about any other task that happens to come along.

The recent out-pouring of law enforcement strength to capture five of six convicts who escaped from state branch prison at Marquette is a case in point.

CAUSE AND THE COST—Within a matter of hours after the prison break hundreds of officers were on the trail. The "big man hunt" hit the headlines.

From all parts of Michigan the State Police started gathering in the Upper Peninsula area where the man hunt was under way. Officers searched the area on foot, in cars, by plane.

Sheriff's officers and city police contributed their strength to the posse of hunters. The trail led from Marquette to the Wisconsin-Michigan border. Five of the escaped convicts were caught. One is still at large.

It should be reasonably obvious to any private citizen that while the man hunt was under way the hundreds of law enforcement officers were unable to pay full attention to other phases of enforcement—including the traffic laws.

The extra costs to which some counties were put—notably Menominee where the Board of Supervisors is complaining—indicates that assistance other than the elected and appointed officials was used.

FIRST THINGS FIRST—How much extra money would any county, city or state appropriate for traffic law enforcement? How many would put on special deputies for such work? Very few, to answer our own questions.

In the United States this year an estimated 40,000 persons will be killed and hundreds of thousands will be injured in highway accidents.

This traffic toll constitutes a national emergency. It should receive emergency attention—and emergency action to appropriate what additional funds are necessary to halt the slaughter, the crippling, the injuring.

These people who will be killed and injured are often innocent victims of the carelessness, the negligence (sometimes criminal) of the men and women who operate vehicles on our highways.

Law enforcement? There is a big field for it here.

THE ONE METHOD—With traffic accidents and fatalities rising year by year it should be obvious that something must be done other than to attempt to persuade Americans into observing the traffic laws.

Education, persuasion, lectures—more traffic tickets and more and bigger fines with a few jail and prison sentences for the criminally negligent would be more effective.

The only way this can be done is for the people themselves to demand more highway patrols, stricter enforcement and stiffer penalties for the violators.

One of the great needs is the assignment of officers to highway patrol who try to make an enforcement record and not win top spot in a motorist's popularity contest. You can't be a nice guy in law enforcement and do an effective job.

Q—Do many Russians and their satellites listen to the Voice of America?

A—No one this side of the Iron Curtain knows for sure, but Dr. Leo Lowenthal, chief Voice evaluator, on May 11 offered a Congressional subcommittee the "conservative" estimate that half the people in Communist lands listen "fairly regularly." Others have been less confident of the Voice's effectiveness.

Open House Is Planned At Health Department

Give President Eisenhower the support he needs and the time to put his program into effect and the nation will be vastly benefited, Hon. Victor Knox, Sault Ste. Marie, 11th district congressman, Saturday told Republicans in their annual meeting at Blaney Park.

Knox denied that some Republicans are not with the president in his program, but said there is some impatience among some Republicans who had looked for patronage which has not and may not materialize.

Operating cost of the federal government has been reduced by 25 per cent under President Eisenhower, and if the excess profits tax is continued for another six months there is the hope that the budget can be balanced, Knox said.

The Northern Michigan Republican Association elected officers as follows:

William Netter, Otsego, president; Harold Christianson, Marquette, first vice president; Robert Kline, Sault Ste. Marie, second vice president; Eleanor Bishop, Ontonagon, third vice president; Harry Whitley, Presque Isle, fourth Crystal Falls, fifth vice president; John Fernstrom, Menominee, sixth vice president; Charles B. Dell, St. Ignace, secretary; Mrs. G. W. Traverser, Escanaba, treasurer.

Knox reported that in August he will return to the 11th district to visit all of the counties and to give a report of his work in Washington.

Other speakers on Saturday's meeting which was well attended with every county in the Upper Peninsula represented, included the following:

Mrs. Catherine Gibson, vice chairman of the Republican State Central Committee; John Feikens, chairman of the State Central Committee; Donald Leonard, Detroit, police commissioner; Mrs. Rae Hooker, national committee woman; and David Kendall, national committeeman.

Drownings Take Toll In Michigan

By The Associated Press

Accidents killed 41 persons in Michigan over the first weekend of summer — one of the heaviest weekend accident tolls in years.

At least 2 persons drowned and 18 were killed in traffic mishaps as highways and lakes were jammed with weekenders seeking relief from temperatures in the 90s.

Three were victims of miscellaneous accidents, including an electrocution and heat prostration.

Three members of one family drowned while two other families claimed two each as lake victims.

The drowning victims included: Edward J. Kearney, 38, Grand Rapids real estate dealer, his wife, Esther, and their son, Richard, 8, drowned Sunday when their motorboat hit a rock and sank in the Thornapple River east of Grand Rapids.

Carlton Pond, 28, and his 4-year-old daughter, Barbara, of Kalamazoo, and Charles Ludlow, 33, and his son, Thomas, 7, of Dowagiac, drowned Saturday at Indian Lake northwest of Dowagiac when sudden gusts of wind upset their raft.

Larry O'Hagan, 31, of Greenville, drowned early Sunday when his car went off the end of a dead-end street and into a mill creek at Belding. His body was recovered after his car headlights were seen shining under water.

Peace Can Come Without Approval Of South Koreans

By The Associated Press

Clark described his talk with the fiery, 78-year-old South Korean President as "friendly and encouraging" and said both had agreed to use such a description.

The general said he did not outline any new U. S. policy and added that President Eisenhower's offer to negotiate a mutual security pact with South Korea after a truce had not been withdrawn.

He also said there was nothing to a report he was given authority by Washington to declare martial law in South Korea if he felt it necessary. Clark said he never had considered such an action and reminded newsmen South Korea is a sovereign state.

Only a short time earlier, South Korea's Acting Prime Minister, Pyun Yung Tai, told reporters his country had given his troops to the U. N. Command and could take them back if he desired.

No More Escapes

Pyun said there would be no further mass releases of anti-Communist North Korean prisoners if the Allied command guaranteed that no Indian troops or Communist "brain washers" would enter South Korea.

Under terms of the armistice that awaits signing at Panmunjom Indian troops would guard anti-Communist prisoners while in custody of a five-nation repatriation commission and Communist representatives would be permitted to give "explanations" about return to North Korea or Red China.

New, but small and scattered breakouts of anti-Communist Korean prisoners were reported from several U. N. camps.

They brought to 27,160 the number of escapes.

Rhee will have an important visitor shortly—Assistant Secretary of State Walter Robertson, who was scheduled to leave Washington today by plane. It was presumed Secretary of State Dulles was sending a special message to Rhee that the U. S. is going ahead with truce arrangements on terms already worked out with the Reds.

The use of lignite, a low-grade coal, is increasing in the United States, with about three million tons now used annually.

Only a short time earlier, South Korea's Acting Prime Minister, Pyun Yung Tai, told reporters his country had given his troops to the U. N. Command and could take them back if he desired.

Perjurer Given 4-Year Sentence

WASHINGTON (AP)—Harold R. Christoffel today was sentenced to 16 months to four years in prison for falsely swearing before a congressional committee in 1947 he was never a Communist.

The sentence was imposed by U. S. District Judge F. Dickinson Letts, who denied Christoffel bail pending another appeal.

The sentence replaces a two to six-year term imposed by Judge Letts after Christoffel's second trial in 1950.

The Supreme Court on May 4 ruled that the former Milwaukee labor leader should be resentenced under the federal perjury law, which carries somewhat lesser penalties, instead of the District of Columbia code under which he was twice tried and twice convicted.

Road Nappers Close To Death

MT. PLEASANT (AP)—Theodore Lyons, 23, of St. Johns, and Calvin Hurrell, 23, of RFD-1, Bannister, considered themselves very lucky to be alive today. So did a lot of people who saw what almost happened to them.

Lyons and Hurrell, driving north for a weekend, were both so hot and tired that they pulled to the side of US-27 5 miles from Clare Saturday night and lay down alongside their car on the ground. They went to sleep.

Cruising along shortly after 1:30, two state troopers stopped to investigate the parked car. They parked their cruiser off the pavement behind the sleepers' car.

A long line of cars coming along the right-hand side of the road slowed up to see what was what. About that time a car came whizzing over a hill.

The driver missed Clare Sheriff Everett Allen's car at the rear of the line, swerving off the road, and kicking the cruiser before his wheels straddled the still-sleeping Lyons and Hurrell.

Lyons got bruised legs, but Hurrell was unhurt.

Sheriff Allen arrested Russell J. Spence, 19, of Barryton, on a charge of reckless driving. Spence said his brakes wouldn't work.

Sabre Jets Blast 6 Migs From Skies

By MILO FARNETI

SEoul (AP)—Hot U. S. Sabre jet pilots today blasted six Communist MIGs from the North Korean skies.

The 35th jet ace of the war was crowned in blazing aerial warfare which extended nearly to the Manchurian border. Col. Robert Baldwin of Sherman Oaks, Calif., qualified as an ace by downing his fifth MIG. He also has damaged three.

Ground action was light except for continued pounding by the Reds against South Korean lines on the East-Central Front.

Three Russian-built MIG jets were destroyed and two others damaged, the Fifth Air Force reported, by Sabres shielding Allied fighter-bombers hitting a communications center northwest of Sakchu, near the Manchurian border.

The fighter-bomber pilots reported they destroyed the main buildings of a communications relay station.

Later in the day, Sabres knocked down three more MIGs while protecting planes pounding a rail bridge near Pyongyang, capital of North Korea.

Air Force, Navy and Marine planes also pounded Red positions on the muddy battlefield.

After a night-long see-saw fight, raiders of the South Korean 8th Division recaptured dominant hill on Red-held Finger Ridge, at the west flank of last week's big Communist offensive.

Singing waitresses, four girls from Albion, Mich., helped entertain the Escanaba Kiwanis Club at their noon meeting today at the House of Ludington.

The girls sang in "Sweet Adeline" barbershop style, and were applauded for encores.

Another attraction, arranged by Al Ness, was the showing of 1952 World Series highlights in motion pictures, with narration by Lew Fonseca.

Nine Injured In Crash Saturday

Nine persons were injured, three of them requiring hospital treatment, in a near head-on collision at 9:50 a. m. Saturday on US-2 in front of the Gulliver post office.

Hospitalized with facial lacerations were Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Flood, both 24, of Milwaukee, and James Tovin, 82, of Madoc, Ont.

It was reported Saturday afternoon that the Floods were being kept at the hospital for observation over the weekend. With them is their infant daughter, Linda, 16 months.

Tovin was given medical treatment and released.

Tovin was one of nine occupants of a westbound Madoc, Ont., car which collided with the Flood machine. Six other persons in the car sustained minor injuries. They were:

James Kehoe, 35, Madoc, driver, bruised left leg and left arm scratches; Jack David Sherren, 27, Sudbury, bruised back and left hip; Audrey Jean Sherren, 22, Sudbury, bruised left knee and ankle; Patricia Kehoe, 10, bruised left shoulder and knee; Margaret Kehoe, 5, head bump; Joan Kehoe, 32, bruised right arm. Unhurt were Roger Kehoe, 2, and Jonathan Paul Sherren, 2.

State police reported that the Flood machine, traveling east, swerved to its left apparently intending to drive into a service station, but cut back to the right and crashed in an angular collision with the oncoming Ontario car. The Canadian driver swung to his left when he noticed the Wisconsin machine turning into his lane of traffic, police said. A parked car by the highway made it impossible for the Canadian to swing right, according to police.

Boy Injured By Exploding Shell

Live ammunition tossed into a bonfire almost cost the life of James Miller, 12, last Wednesday afternoon, it was reported Saturday by Michigan state police.

A fragment of an exploding 45 caliber shell struck the boy in the forehead, penetrating the skin and flesh. He was taken to Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital for treatment and was released Friday.

Dr. Merle Wehner told police that another pound of pressure on the shell fragment might have killed the youth.

Police, who investigated the accident after receiving a report of it Friday, said that four other boys—Carl Miller, 16, Dale Russell, 14, Ronald Miller, 14, and John Alexander—were present when the accident occurred.

The shells which the boys were tossing into the fire were found in a ditch along US-2 last winter by Carl Miller and Dale Russell, police reported. The boys told police that their parents confiscated the rest of the bullets after the accident.

Boys Reported Lying On Road To Stop Autos

Some Manistique youths have developed a new and dangerous system of flagging auto rides, it is reported by Sgt. N. H. Modders, commanding officer of the Manistique state police post.

Two reports have been received at the post during the past week of youths 12 to 16 years sprawling prone on the highway to force approaching cars to halt, Modders said.

One complaint was received Friday at the post from Mrs. Victor Haas, whose husband is manager of Indian Lake State Park. She told police that a motorist had been forced to stop on old US-2 between the park and Manistique because several youths, seeking a ride, had lain down on the road surface, completely blocking traffic.

Another motorist reported several days before that other youths had tried to stop him at the new Indian River bridge at Indian Lake by sprawling prone across the road. The boys hastily scrambled to their feet and got out of the way when it appeared that the oncoming car might not be able to stop before hitting them.

"This is an extremely dangerous way to get car rides," Modders said, "and should be halted before some boy is killed or injured. Parents should cooperate in halting this practice."

'Crack Down' On Horn Blowers Is Slated By Police

The city police department intends to "crack down" on persistent horn blowers in Manistique, it is announced by Roy D. Anderson, chief.

Wedding parties who drive through the business district with horns sounding are included among those to whom police will issue tickets, Anderson said.

Franchot Tone is to receive approximately one million dollars from the estate of his mother who died April 16.

This was disclosed when Tone filed a petition in Superior Court Friday for probate of her will.

Mrs. Gertrude Tone, 76, left her two million dollar estate to Tone and his brother, Frank J. Tone Jr., 52, of Niagara Falls, N. Y., to be divided equally.

The actor's petition said probate proceedings already are pending in Niagara Falls but it is necessary to file the will here to dispose of $22,848 in a Beverly Hills bank and furniture in a West Los Angeles home.

Other property, consisting of stocks and bonds, is in New York, the petition said.

In This Corner

With Roy Crandall

A bout with bursitis and a week's vacation has kept us pretty far from the sports scene, but we've recovered from both and should be able to peck out a column today just to get back into the swing of things.

We had the personnel on the fourth floor at St. Francis Hospital fooled during our brief stay. Kept the radio tuned to ball games night and day and some of the nurses thought we were awfully interested in the game for a sick sports writer. Actually, we were just keeping a close check on our interests in the office baseball pool.

This bursitis deal is quite a thing. We'd heard of athletes developing such a condition but never knew just what it was. It hit us in the right shoulder and before we knew what was happening it felt like we were on one of those Chinese torture racks. Which proves you don't have to be an athlete to get bursitis.

It has its advantages, though. You get out of any spring house cleaning which might be going on at the time and you develop a knack for using your left hand when eating and drinking. And if you carry your billfold in your right pocket you're a cinch to out-fumble the opposition when it's time to pick up the check.

One case doesn't make us an authority, of course, but we learned that stimulating liquids like hot coffee help the condition along. And after talking to a host of other people who have had bursitis we were almost tempted to rub a little gin on the offending shoulder. Seems it has some sort of healing qualities, or maybe we haven't got that quite right.

At any rate, Dr. William LeMire, St. Francis Hospital and a week's rest have us back in shape again. We don't know about you readers, but we're kind of missed missing around in the sports picture. And with a dozen or so ball games played around here yesterday, today's a good day to get back into action.

Richer Smashes Record For Stock Car Racers

Hard-packed straight-aways had the stocks spinning at top speed here in the Saturday night races at the State Fair Oval. Jim Richer of Iron Mountain, driving Leon Fraker's car No. 116, smashed the track record in the time trials by touring the quarter-mile in 24.05 seconds. Richer was driving in place of Fraker who is recovering from injuries suffered a week ago.

Top money winner Saturday night was Norman Wagner of Menominee who won the first heat and the semi-final. Joe Gayon of Aurora, Wis., copped the feature race after Richer had led from the start to the final lap. John Pieropon of Spalding followed Gayon across the finish line. He also won the third heat to finish high in the list of money winners. Lawrence Brown of Manistique won the second heat and John Zawada of Escanaba was second.

Rotary Vs. St. Joe In Jaycee Little League

Rotary will attempt to get back on the victory road tonight in Jaycee Little League action, sending Mammy Bourdeau to the mound against the St. Joe Boosters. Leroy Lancour will be seeking his second straight victory on the St. Joe mound. Rotary expects more power at the plate with Ken Hamilton serving as backstop for Bourdeau's slants.

Sports Roundup

By GAYLE TALBOT
NEW YORK (AP)—Why, comes the inquiry, has there been no organized move to elect Lefty O'Doul to baseball's Hall of Fame, considering the fact that the record shows Lefty hit for an average of .349 in 11 big league seasons, a lifetime figure topped only by Ty Cobb, Hornsby and Joe Jackson among the moderns?
The answer is that Lefty, now managing at San Diego, wasted the first four of those years trying to be a pitcher and was crowded 30 before he discovered he was meant to be a slugging outfielder. In his two greatest years with the Phillies, 1929-30, O'Doul hit .398 and .383. In his last big year, 1932, he clubbed .368 for Brooklyn.

Some of our more rabid Yankee rooters are chiding this corner gently for having suggested that their team's runaway threatens serious damage to American League attendance. They point out that more than 30,000 crowded into watch the St. Louis Browns break the champs' 18-game winning streak the other night.
That's not the proper test. Wait until Stengel's mob hits the road next time with its wondrous lead and goes prospecting for dollars out through the steaming western tier. That big stadium at Cleveland is going to look awfully empty after those 70,000-plus throngs it held when there still was a race.

It becomes more evident each day that the fans no longer will turn out in large numbers just to see a baseball game. There are too many other things to do, too many other forms of entertainment competing for the sports dollar. The baseball fan now demands a contest.

Joe Dey, executive secretary of the U.S.G.A., is one of the most disappointed men in America because prior appointments will make it impossible for him to watch Ben Hogan go for the British Open championship at Carnoustie two weeks from today.
"I think it will be the greatest sports story since Bobby Jones scored his grand slam," Joe said. "Ben is a greatly changed fellow since his accident, one of the nicest, most affable guys you could hope to meet."

"One of the things I'm proudest of," says Harry Markson, guiding genius of the International Boxing Club, "is the part I played in the discovery of Rocky Marciano."
"Al Weill (Rocky's manager) talked me into watching his new boy fight some bum at a little club one night, and next day he asked me what I thought. 'Al,' I told him, 'you'd better send that kid back to Brooklyn right now. I don't know what else he can do, but he'll never be a fighter.'"

Turning 14 hits, five walks and six errors into a 17-9 victory over Fayette, Manistique yesterday won its sixth straight Bay de Noc League outing.

Fayette greeted Don Carlson with four runs in the first inning on three hits and an error. But the Cards came back with singletons in the second and third and then sent five runs across in the fourth to start the rout.

Cooks Gets Win

In other games yesterday Cooks slammed Rapid River with a 16-3 defeat, hammering out 15 hits off three hurlers. Orville Olson led Cooks at the plate with four for five and Burt Lund tossed seven-hit ball to post the victory. Home runs featured Trenary's 10-6 victory over Garden. Trenary batters clouted four homers and Garden rapped two.

Trenary opened fast with a pair of homers good for four runs in the first inning. Dick Rukkala and Paul Johnson poked the circuit blows.

Garden rallied to lead 6-5 going into the ninth when Trenary popped up with five runs. Homers by Johnson and Vince Trotter in the ninth sparked the uprising by Trenary.

Two Garden Homers

Ray Ranguette and Duane Popour belted round-trippers for Garden. Jim Morin went the distance on the Garden hill while Red Kreig and George Brown shared hit duties for Trenary.

At Fayette, Manistique's Carlson was lifted for Al Adams in the sixth and Homer Weber finished out the ninth, inning. The three hurlers allowed 11 hits.

Ansell opened on the Fayette mound and stepped down for Van Remortel in the fourth.

Two Fayette catchers were injured and had to be taken out of the game. Ranguette suffered a bruised hand and Jacques a smashed nose.

Dusty Rhoads led Manistique at the plate with three hits while Bob McNamara registered four runs.

Tigers Shell Out $95,000 For Rooks

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Tigers, floundering in last place in the American League, opened their purse strings wide over the weekend as they shelled out a reported $95,000 for two rookie players.

A Tiger spokesman today announced the signing of Albert V. Kaline, 18, of Baltimore, Md., an outfielder. The Detroit News reported he signed for a $35,000 bonus.

Sought By 15 Clubs

Kaline's signing followed the week-end deal that brought Robert Miller, a 17-year-old Berwyn, Ill., pitcher, into the Tiger fold for a reported $60,000 bonus.

Harnies Turn In 6-4 Win At Iron Mountain

The Escanaba Harnischfeger beat Iron Mountain Linoleum at Iron Mountain last night behind four-hit hurling by John Pieropon.

Joe Ricci's two hits led the Harnies in an eight-hit attack off three Iron Mountain twirlers. Elroy Zimmerman's double was a big blow for the Escanaba team.

The Harnies will travel to Milwaukee to meet the metropolitan Harnischfeger team Saturday. A return game between the Milwaukee Harnies and the Escanaba Harnies will be played at Memorial Field here on the Fourth of July.

Stephenson Tops Cubs 8-0 In Wabung League

Stephenson stamped itself as an 11th district American Legion Junior baseball power yesterday by blanking the Escanaba Cubs 8-0 in Wabung League action at the Stephenson diamond. New in the Wabung circuit this year, Stephenson won behind seven-hit pitching on the part of young Mike Strohl. Strohl, who recently set a league strikeout record with 18 whiffs in one game, fanned three Cubs.

Gary Paler and John Berrigan shared pitching chores for the Cubs and limited Stephenson to seven safeties while fanning 10. But Stephenson took advantage of seven Escanaba errors while playing errorless ball themselves.

All-Stars Race For Positions

CHICAGO (AP)—First base and shortstop were two hotly-contested positions for both the American and National league teams as the annual All-Star baseball poll neared the halfway point today.

The vote by fans to decide the starting lineups for the game in Cincinnati July 14 ends at midnight July 3. It began June 12.

In the American League poll, Ferris Fain of Chicago, Mickey Vernon of Washington and Eddie Robinson of Philadelphia were in a tight three-way fight for the first base spot. Fain was the leader in the latest tabulation. He had 60,286 votes to Vernon's 58,312 and Robinson's 55,729.

At shortstop, Phil Rizzuto of New York and Chico Carrasquel of Chicago were waging another close struggle, with Rizzuto leading 59,364 to 56,202.

Ted Kuszewski of Cincinnati and Gil Hodges of Brooklyn were top first base candidates for the National League team. Kuszewski holding a 61,783 to 59,406 margin over his Dodger rival.

Pee Wee Reese of Brooklyn led Granny Hamner of Philadelphia 60,882 to 57,193 for the shortstop post.

Half Million Mark Passed By Braves

Milwaukee (AP)—The Milwaukee Braves, leading both major leagues in attendance to date this season, passed the half million mark Sunday.

The 34,343 fans who paid to see the Braves' doubleheader with the New York Giants brought the Braves' home attendance total to 525,823 in 21 games played at Milwaukee County Stadium.

Yankees Likely To Break All-Time Record Of Wins

By JACK HAND
AP Sports Writer

If the New York Yankees keep pouring it on, they'll break the 1906 Chicago Cubs' all-time record of winning 116 games. Unless something cracks they should be able to take a month vacation in September and bring up the Kansas City club to finish out the schedule.

After Sunday's split with Detroit, the Yanks were playing 46-14 ball for a .767 percentage. At the same rate they'll wind up at 118-36. High for the American League is the Yanks' 110 victories in 1927. With an 11½-game lead at this stage of the race, the American League record of a 19½-game pennant-winning margin by the 1936 Yanks also is in danger. They might even threaten that fabulous 26½-game lead held by Pittsburgh's 1902 champs in the National.

Yanks Spread Lead

The Yanks took advantage of another lapse by Cleveland Sunday, dividing a double-header with Detroit as the Indians lost to Washington, 5-1. As a result, New York picked up another half game on the Tribe, now threatened from below by Chicago. New York won the first game, 6-3, for Whitey Ford on homers by Mickey Mantle, Billy Martin and Yogi Berra but lost the second, 10-3, as Walt Dropo drove in four runs with a homer and two singles.

Chicago climbed within a game of Cleveland by breaking even with Philadelphia. The White Sox came back to cop the second-9-4, on homers by Fred Marsh, Ferris Fain and Minnie Minoso after Harry Byrd had shut them out with seven hits, 5-0, in the first game.

The St. Louis Browns broke a

Race Stays Close In American Association

(By The Associated Press) Indianapolis and Toledo were running neck to neck in the American Association lead today with Kansas City only a half game behind.

There were three sweeps in Sunday's doubleheaders, with Louisville and St. Paul providing the day's big thrill.

Louisville won the first game from the Saints 4-2 as Bill Henry hurled a seven-hitter. The nightcap went 19 innings before Louisville won, 2-1, on Eddie Lyons' one-out single scoring Stann Hillm from second base.

Other double victories were turned in by Toledo, 12-3 and 3-0 over Charleston, and by Kansas City, 6-5 and 7-6 over Minneapolis.

Split With Yankees Is Boost For Tigers

NEW YORK (AP)—Their confidence somewhat restored after splitting four games with the winging world champion New York Yankees, Detroit's tailend Tigers headed for Philadelphia to open a series of three night games with the sixth-place Athletics.

Today was an off-day for everyone in the American League except Cleveland and Washington.

The Tigers took a 6-3 walloping in the first game of a doubleheader with the Yankees Sunday, but bounced back to humiliate the Yankees, 10-3, in the second game.

Fifth For Hoelt

To split a series, 2-2, with the Yankees was viewed as quite an accomplishment by both the Tigers and their followers. After all, before they came to town the Tigers had won only 14 games all season, and were dropping from 17-1 and 23-3 lickings administered by the Boston Red Sox.

Tiger hopes soared, too, on the possibility that big Walt Dropo finally had recovered his batting eye and his home-run wallop at the same time.

Dropo got two homers Sunday. One scored two futile runs in the ninth of the first game, but the second iced the nightcap, bringing in three runs and giving the Tigers a 7-2 edge at that point. Dropo also got a homer Saturday and now has a total of eight for the season.

Fifth For Hoelt

Lefty Hal Newhouse started the first game, seeking his 201st major league victory but wound up with a defeat. The one-time star of the pitching staff served up two home-run balls, to Mickey Mantle and Billy Martin, before Ray Herbert gave Yogi Berra a two-run homer pitch in the eighth.

Young Billy Hoelt was the winning pitcher of the second game, but had to call on help from Ned Garver in the eighth as the two clubs battled in 102-degree heat.

A bases-loaded triple by Ray Boone in the fifth gave Hoelt a 3-1 lead and he never lost it to ring up his fifth victory of the season against four defeats.

Spec Shea held Cleveland to three hits to win his sixth, spoiling Art Houtteman's starting debut as an Indian.

Braves Stage Rally

Milwaukee staged another of its comebacks to get a 6-6 tie with the New York Giants in a second game, called by darkness after eight innings. In the opener, Milwaukee suffered a 5-0 defeat when Ruben Gomez threw a two-hitter.

Because Brooklyn bowed to Chicago, 3-2, on a 10th-inning homer by Eddie Miksis, an ex-Dodger, the Milwaukee National League lead remained intact at 2½ games.

Only Philadelphia among the first division clubs gained on Milwaukee. St. Louis' five-game winning streak went up in smoke as Pittsburgh dumped the Cardinals, 5-2, and Philadelphia split a pair with Cincinnati, winning 5-2 and losing 5-3.

Ford survived a rugged ninth inning in 102-degree heat at Yankee Stadium to go the distance in his eighth triumph after the Yanks knocked out Hal Newhouse in the fourth.

Hoelt Is Winner

Billy Hoelt, with the help of Ned Garver, copped the second game for the Tigers. The loss was charged against reliever Tom Gorman, who yielded a triple to Ray Boone with the bases loaded in the fifth.

Newhouse Nears End Of Brilliant Mound Career

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK (AP)—Hal Newhouse, nearing the end of a brilliant career, rates the current New York Yankees "The best club I ever pitched against."

"I don't go along with the idea that they are a lucky club," said the veteran Detroit lefthander. "You make one mistake, and they're ready to jump on you. They take advantage of every break. It's a real good ball team."

It was cool in the Tigers clubhouse after the steaming 102-degree heat on the Yankee Stadium mound. Newhouse sat on a rubbing table, alternately dragging on a coke and a cigarette. A small white radio blared out the details of the final innings of the first game in which he had been knocked out of the box.

Lauds Mantle

Old before his time at 32 because of an injury to his left arm, Newhouse paid his respects to young Mickey Mantle who had blasted him for a 425-foot home run.

"I made a good pitch to him, too," he said slowly. "Tried to keep him from pulling. But he just hit it high and away. That boy may become one of the great hitters. He has a terrific advantage on most hitters because he switches at the plate. You never get a chance to work on him."

Newhouse stopped a minute and then added, "I would like to have pitched against him, though, when I had my good stuff."

Although he rates Mantle as a potential great, Newhouse considers Hank Bauer the best hitter in the American League—"At least against me."

Hasn't Won Yet

The years and the bad arm have caught up with Newhouse. From 20-game winner he dropped to 15. Then down to six and back again to nine last season when he finally hit the 200-mark. This year he still is looking for his first victory. The fast ball is gone. Now he changes speeds, pitching with his head instead of his arm.

"The bad arm must have cost me about 60 games," he said. "I got it first in '49 (when he won 18) and it came back in '50. Without bragging, I think we probably would have won the pennant in '50 if my arm had been all right. We only lost by three games. In '51 I couldn't do a thing but it was a little better last year."

"This year it seems better, but after what happened today (two home run balls and four runs in 3½ innings) I don't know. I hope it comes around. Maybe this is the last year."

Tom Gorman and Jim McDonald followed him as the Tigers got off an 11-hit attack.

The annual election of the Gladstone School District is to be held on Monday, July 13, at which time one member will be elected, the current term of Archie D. Harris expiring.

Harris will be a candidate for reelection. A nominating petition is now being circulated in his behalf. Harris has been a member of the board since 1942 and has served as secretary for the major part of the time.

Registration of electors starts on June 13 and will continue until 8 p. m., July 3.

In all school elections every citizen of the United States of the age of 21 years male or female who has resided in the state six months and in the voting precinct 20 days prior to the date of the election shall be a qualified voter.

Victims Of Schooner Sinking In Gulf Sue Seller For $35,149

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—A Michigan man and his companion on an ill-fated voyage to South America are suing a Chicagoan for $35,149 because the schooner they bought from him sank in the Gulf of Mexico.

Wallace S. Haines, 41, of South Haven, and Joseph F. D. Garcia of Van Nuys, Calif., floated four days in the Gulf in life jackets before a fishing boat picked them up June 7.

They charged in the suit filed in U. S. District Court that the boat's former owner, Morton Zuker, knew the craft was not seaworthy when he sold it to them for $4,000 on May 17.

The suit charged that a plank in the bottom of the boat sprang loose and it sank in a matter of minutes. Both men said they lost 40 pounds as a result of the four-day ordeal.

CREAMY ACCIDENT

SUPERIOR, Ariz. (AP) — With brakes burned out, a truck carrying a load of 2,744 gallons of cream struck a curve entering this mountain mining town at 80 miles an hour and overturned, spilling the cream down the main street and crushing the truck into sheet metal. The driver, Thomas Brooks of Dallas, Tex., was treated in the hospital for slight facial scratches and released.

Gives Warning On Fireworks

Chief of Police Torval Kallerson warns against the sale or use of fireworks of firecrackers.

Chief Kallerson said Saturday that the only thing in this line which may be sold or used is cap guns and caps for use in the guns.

Fire crackers and torpedoes are strictly banned as are other types of fireworks including rockets, Roman candles and the like.

Setting them off or even having possession is a violation, Chief Kallerson points out.

Left 50 Years Ago; Father, 84, Fed Up

DETROIT (AP)—Fifty years ago Charles Stickle left his home in New York because, he said, his wife took in a roomer and refused to make him move elsewhere.

Now 84 and spry, Stickle says: "Why won't they let me alone? I'm an old man and I want to die in peace."

Detroit police located Stickle at the request of a daughter, Mrs. Paul Luning of East Elmhurst, N. Y. She explained that her mother, also 84, "hasn't heard from father since the day he left us," and would like to know "whether he is still alive."

Police Sgt. Gerald Culler found Stickle alone in a neat apartment. "I was fed up," Stickle said of his departure 50 years ago.

"I got a divorce by mail in Texas 17 years ago. I don't want to see any of them."
